Ministry News

So many things have been accomplished this month for the ministry of Voice for Christ.

Kristan has taken regular "on-air" radio shifts at KAGV 1110AM from noon to six o'clock and is enjoying the challenge of doing "live" radio without making mistakes.

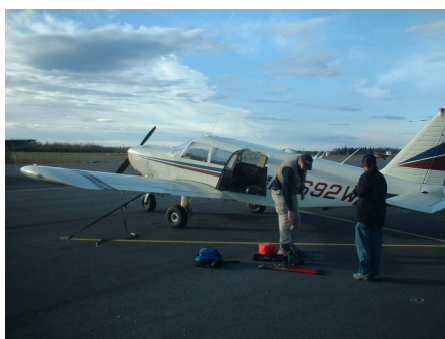

She has begun the ground-work for soliciting sponsorships that will provide some of the fiscal income for KAGV. Both of these things are keeping her very busy.

Karl has spent this month using his hands for Christ. This includes fixing the KAGV studio boiler and finishing off the last of the plumbing work associated with the heating system. He also has installed thresholds for the studio building doors, a new "on-air" computer and rebuilt the "weather" computer.

Both Karl and Kristan had the opportunity to spend the last week of September in Nenana at VFCM headquarters. During this time, we visited two translators in the remote villages of Ruby and Tanana flying in the VFCM plane.

Karl was able to do some maintenance work on the radio repeaters while Kristan and the pilot worked on clearing foliage and brush out of the way of the satellite signal.

Kristan also took two radio shifts at KIAM 630AM in Nenana in order to give two announcers much needed and deserved respites. During this time, Karl worked on another boiler and did some minor computer maintenance at KIAM.

As we visited these villages we are reminded of God's saving power. He can overcome any situation. Please pray that we will be up to the task of bearing good fruit in all that we say and do, and in each place that we go (John 15).

Home Building Update

We are blessed that much has also been accomplished on the home building front.

At the beginning of September, our house was not completely enclosed for the winter. After well and dirt work, a big shrubby bonfire, and garage door installation, we can say that we are "dried-in".

Karl has been able to design and install a chimney for our boiler. His next step is to finish up the plumbing that will heat our house and provide running water.

Kristan has been working on installing drywall in the interior of the house. Our plan is to completely finish one bathroom, one guest bedroom, and the laundry room before moving in.

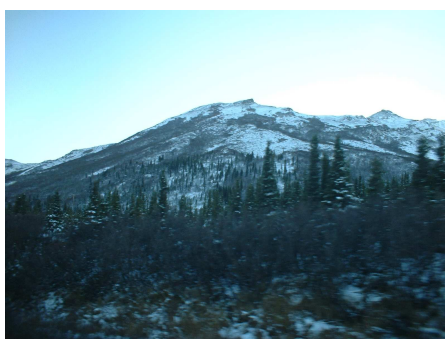

Our construction goal for this next month is to have the heating system installed and working, as well as the mud and tape completed in the bathroom, guest room, and laundry room. See our weekly construction updates at

Winter Is Coming

This month the great state of Alaska has seen its first frost, its first freezing temperatures, and its first snow in the mountains and on the valley floors. The Houston, AK area is also losing approximately 5 minutes and 30 seconds of daylight per day.
